Q.5 Following devolution, Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales each have their own parliament or assembly with powers over education, health and other areas. But MPs from these nations sitting in Westminster can still vote on laws that apply only in England. Generally speaking, for each of the following statements, do you agree strongly, agree slightly, neither agree nor disagree, slightly disagree or strongly disagree?
Elected assemblies representing English regions such as Yorkshire & Humber or the North West should be set up with powers similar to the devolved assemblies in other parts of the UK
